Good Afternoon Mike,

I received the email outlining your five concerns. Supporting arguments for your appeal are being considered. Again, multiple entities within and outside the Department are working this issue. Because of the varying circumstances, we are unable at this time to provide a hard date for completion. I will keep you abreast of progress and changes as your appeal process continues.

As for your offer to meet, I do not think it would be useful to do so just yet.

Finally, thank you for the notice about your Proceedings publication. It is fortunate you were able to apply the amendments prior to publication. I must ask what you regard as "significant negative impact/harm" given that your article was published.

Regarding the tentative retainer by Screen Gems, I can refer you to DoD Instruction 5210.16 for guidance related to DoD dealings with film and entertainment media. The instruction is currently under review for updates, but the basic policy is essentially the same. You should be able to access it online through any search engine.

Thank you for your inquiry, and please call should you have issues.

Regards,
